Description

The quadratic insert has a woven pattern of dark red wool. The middle square in which a circle is located was provided with plant ornament. The circle probably contained originally a figure. The inner square is surrounded by 16 circular fields that are filled with a flower-like, geometric ornament. A frame of a frieze-like decorative element forms the outer end of the square.

The Coptic textiles that are obtained in the Museum Ulm were acquired by the former Gewerbemuseum Ulm (Museum of Applied Arts) from the collection of Franz Bock (1823 - 1899) in the end of the 1880s. Dr. Franz Johann Joseph Bock was a cleric and art historian and travelled in 1885 and 1886 to Upper Egypt where he carried out excavations. In this manner, he set up a collection of Coptic textile fragments that come from graves. Particularly these are parts of blankets or tunics. The collected objects Franz Bock has sold gradually to different museums. Since Bock has cut his finds, normally only fragments from larger fabrics came into the different collections. Thereby it is likely that snippets from one and the same textile can be found dispersed on several collections.
