Description

An arrow with a shaft probably from reed and with an iron tip that is put on the shaft by means of a tang. The upper part of the arrowhead is leaf-shaped and it has two thin, pointed barbs below. The shaft is wrapped with very fine, glued on bast below the tip.

The object could not be determined clearly and since no corresponding entry in the inventory could be identified, the provenance is not cleared. Based on the material and the form it is probably an African arrow.
